About Muğla

Muğla Sıtkı Koçman University is situated in Muğla Province, in the southwest corner of Türkiye, where the Aegean Sea meets the Mediterranean. As a vital centre for Turkish and world tourism, its legendary gulfs, bays and beaches, magnificent landscapes and forests, and the impressive cultural heritage of past Anatolian civilisations have made nearby destinations such as Gökova, Bodrum, Marmaris, Datça, Fethiye, Milas and Dalyan world-famous holiday destinations along Türkiye's longest coastline (1,124 km), lined with 19 marinas.

Called Caria in ancient times, the Muğla region has for centuries been a leading social, cultural and historical centre. Muğla, the province's capital, is a modern and peaceful city famous for its unique architecture. Because the local economy relies heavily on tourism, the natural, cultural and historical beauties of Muğla have always been carefully protected — a city that keeps the past alive for the future. Living in Muğla means being only an hour away from world-famous sites such as Halicarnassos, Knidos, Mylasa and Kaunos, the Blue Lagoon, Caretta Caretta Beach, Patara Beach and the Butterfly Valley, attracting some 3 million visitors every year. When the academic year begins, the city welcomes thousands of students whose energy blends with Muğla's natural and historical richness, making it an increasingly vibrant centre for education and culture.
